Chaplain's Message

Today was the annual CFS holiday party with students and faculty.

To introduce ourselves, we each shared our names and a holiday tradition that we celebrate. It was fascinating to hear how many worship services, special dinners, present opening gatherings, etc. were represented around the table. We come from traditions that celebrate differently, and we enjoyed hearing about how others observe the season.

One of my family's traditions is to gather to celebrate Christmas a few days after Dec. 25, because it is difficult for family members who work in hospitals and churches to get Christmas Eve and Christmas Day off. A new tradition I'm participating in this year is serving as a bell-ringer for the Salvation Army at Marketplace Mall. I'll let you know how it goes.

As you observe traditions old and new this Christmas season, may the Christ Child be born anew in your heart, that you may know Christ's love for you and for all, and share that love with others through your words and actions.

Christmas Blessings, Alison

Third Sunday of ADVENT

Proclaim

Rejoice greatly in the Lord. Proclaim God's greatness everywhere. For God loves justice and hates wrongdoing. God binds up the brokenhearted and comforts those who despair.

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God. Proclaim liberty to the captives and release to the prisoners. Proclaim comfort to those who mourn.

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God. Proclaim the year of the Lord's favor, God's righteousness for the poor, the outcast, the vulnerable.

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God. Proclaim the coming of hope in a tiny baby, the birth of righteousness and peace for all the nations.

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God. Spirit of God, anoint us as messengers of your good news to all people. As we light this third candle of Advent, let us proclaim the promised coming of Christ's righteousness through Jesus Christ.

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God. Amen.
